

A Twist on Career Night (One Night-NOV 18th) An Interactive Youth Career Workshop

STUDENTS? Do you feel like you are unprepared to enter the workforce? Or that there are no opportunities for you locally? Are you curious how some of the leaders and professionals got to where they are? Take some time out of your evening next Tuesday November 18th to have a REAL, and open conversation about careers and how to get there. I want to inform Everyone of an amazing opportunity for teenagers, a Career Night aimed at High School students hosted by the Berkshire Leadership Program Class of 2008, a program of the Berkshire Chamber of Commerce. The evening is Tuesday, November 18, 2008 at Gladys Allen Brigham Community Center (Girls INC.) from 7:30 to 9pm. Around 5-8 professionals from the area are working to be the best leaders in the workforce and community for the betterment of the Berkshires. In collaboration with the Pittsfield Youth Commission, the BLP class has decided that educating youth, advocating for youth development, and just speaking to young people about the workforce would be a positive step to keep young people in the Berkshires and assisting the up and coming generations with their career paths. The event will include icebreakers and brief presentations by the professionals. an opportunity to pick 3 professionals the youth wants to hear more detailed presentations from, activities dealing with professional settings and interactions, a panel discussion where youth have the opportunity to really question and speak openly with the professionals, ending in personal stories from the facilitators and reflections. RSVP is not necessary but if you are interested and plan to attend the event please contact Cassandra Ynocencio at youth@pittsfieldch.com or call 448-9735
